

As a small market broadcaster, our concerns are the cost of implementing the plan and being able to maintain it with the limited resources, particularly manpower. We feel the burden of this plan is excessive when we already police ourselves to meet our obligation of being responsible broadcasters in a small market.